PUBLISHER: Action Aid

This publication is the third report produced by the Women Won't Wait Campaign aimed at holding institutions accountable for turning policy rhetoric into practice in response to the intersecting crisis of HIV and violence against women and girls. This publication analyses the policies, programming, and funding patterns of five agencies: UNAIDS, the Global Fund to Fight AIDS, Tuberculosis, and Malaria, the World Bank, the US Government's President Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief (PEPFAR), and the UK Government's Department for International Development (DFID). It provides an update on progress made by these five agencies in increasing attention to funding programs that address violence against women and girls in the context of HIV prevention, treatment, care and support, and highlights progress made since the initial assessment and what needs to be done to ensure that policies are translated into resourced action.
