

For years, my battle cry has been to bring HIV treatment to children and families in Africa. And as I begin my new tour, you're only going to hear me get louder on the issue— especially as it relates to women. Read full article here .