

Female condoms officially launched in India

India officially launched female condoms on Friday as a part of its campaign against HIV/AIDS. Female condoms are currently the only female-initiated method that offers women protection against the infection and unplanned pregnancy. Read more...