

AIDS Threatens Small Businesses

AIDS is threatening Kenya's money-lending institutions which are supporting about 16 percent of the country's 30 million people. The threat has prompted the management of the micro-finance institutions to begin looking at practical ways of tackling the problem, including taking out insurance to cover clients living with HIV/AIDS. Read more...