

'I'll keep on fighting'

A Ugandan honoured by an international human rights group for her campaign to help women like herself - who carry HIV and its often heavy stigma - said her country's Aids policy had become misguided and moralistic. Read more...