

Through The Eyes of Children

---

"I didn't know that girls can play soccer. I thought it was a sport only for boys," says Thulile Khanyile. But after a photography and writing project changed her perception of gender roles, the 14-year-old helped start a girl's soccer team at her high school in Nkandla, a rural area in the heart of Zululand. Read more...